TOMPE2020

The Ontario Miniature Print Exhibition

INTRODUCTION

Print London is pleased to present its third edition of The Ontario Miniature Print Exhibition (TOMPE2020). First held in 2016, entries to this juried show have continued to increase as the exhibition gains ground in the professional printmaking community.

Despite the highly unusual circumstances caused by the ongoing coronavirus pandemic, the Ontario born / resident artists whose works are represented here rose to the occasion, and for this we are grateful. Submissions came from far and wide; from Thunder Bay to Hamilton, and Windsor to Montreal, and from as far away as Ireland. Some artists have exhibited in TOMPE before and others are new to the exhibition. We welcome and thank them all for having faith in us during these topsy-turvy times.

Our three Jurors also deserve our hearty thanks. Unlike previous editions of TOMPE, they were tasked with viewing the works online in a virtual Zoom meeting. Each work was studied and discussed in detail. It can be difficult to appreciate the materiality of small-scale, intimate works through a digital translation on a computer screen. Fortunately, once the exhibition was installed, they were able to visit the gallery and view the works in person.

Lastly, we would like to thank Museum London for continuing to generously sponsor Print London's work, as well as Satellite Project Space and Fanshawe College's School of Design for their helpful assistance with the exhibition.

Jurors' Statement for TOMPE2020

This year the jurors of The Ontario Miniature Print Exhibition gathered remotely to assess and select the submissions for the exhibition. The jurors were impressed by the range of subjects explored by the artists, especially on highly topical themes including social interaction, mental health, homelessness, and climate change. The submissions also displayed great facility overall, and a diverse and innovative cross-section of techniques and materials, from wood engraving to 3D printing, vitreography to pochoir. The jurors took extra care in making their final selection given the highly tactile nature of printmaking and the challenges presented by the virtual nature of the submissions as necessitated by the Covid-19 situation. Of the 146 works submitted, the jurors selected 81 for exhibition and awarded first, second, and third prizes, along with 5 honorary mentions. Congratulations to all of the artists selected to participate in TOMPE2020.
